This week I used this template https://www.free-css.com/free-css-templates/page282/astro-motion for my cars.html file. I changed the CSS file but left the js file unaltered. I looked up the element I wanted to change in the HTML file and searched for it in the CSS file to make the process faster.

I'm still unable to fix the error from last week on my train.html file: The scrolling effect on the train station page doesn't work if the screen's width is a little bit small. I'm not sure how to make it work on small screens.
